

KICK YOUR CAREER INTO HIGH GEAR.

Granted to fewer than ten percent of hospitals across the nation, Magnet® status is awarded to the best of the best. MedStar Georgetown University Hospital is proud to be one of these distinguished few.

MedStar Georgetown University Hospital, Washington, D.C. 2024 NEW GRADUATE NURSE RESIDENCY PROGRAM

Learn with support.

The year-long Vizient/American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) Nurse Residency Program™ is an opportunity to develop your clinical and leadership skills in a supportive, collaborative, hands-on environment. You'll attend monthly seminars and learning activities, develop an individual career development plan, complete an evidence-based practice project related to a specialty topic of your choice, and sharpen your clinical skills.

Practice with Purpose.

Start your career with the Magnet®-recognized nursing team at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital, knowing you'll do meaningful work as a part of a purpose-driven community. As a four-time Magnet®-designated hospital, we're known for our collaborative, empowered practice environment, with abundant opportunities for professional growth. Our whole-person approach to care, in the spirit of Cura Personalis, gives meaning to our work and brings warmth and community to our large, academic, teaching hospital.

Experience Washington, D.C.

While you learn new professional skills, you'll also be working in one of the hottest cities for young professionals! Explore this vibrant area and all its incredible history and culture with a diverse group of fellow nurses. MedStar Georgetown is right in the heart of the nation's capital—and there's so much to see and do.

“I chose to start my career at MedStar Georgetown because of the resources available to new graduate nurses. From the Nurse Residency Program, to our clinical classes and skills labs, our preceptors and leaders are all ready to help as we transition into the role of the professional nurse. Additionally, with our Magnet designation and the new Pavilion, it's an exciting time to join such a great team and culture.”
