

MedStar Health

At MedStar Health, it is important for us to understand your wishes about your care.

We are reaching out to all our patients over the age of 65 to share some ways we can improve our communication.

1. Tell us your concerns.

We want to know what is important to you. We are sharing a checklist you can use to help you think about this. If you want, you can complete the included checklist and bring it to your next appointment.

2. Share your health information with family or a friend.

Through myMedStar patient portal you may view your electronic health record, schedule visits, and message your provider. Sharing access to myMedStar patient portal with a family member or friend can help them better understand your health and treatments. Attached is information about how to share access to myMedStar patient portal, if you are interested.

3. Talk with your health team about your wishes.

We want to make sure your wishes are known and respected. If you'd like, you may complete the included advance directive form to bring to your next appointment to discuss with your primary care provider. If you already have an advance directive, you may bring a copy instead of completing a new one. Or you can create an electronic advance directive for free at <https://mydirectives.com/medstar>. A member of our clinic team may reach out to you prior to the visit to see if you have questions or would like to discuss further.

Give our team a call 410-829-2212 or email us at ACPIInfo@MedStar.net to schedule today.

We look forward to talking with you on future visits and addressing your questions.

It's how we treat people.

Making the most of your visit.

You may use this guide to prepare for primary care visits.

Words You Need to Know

- Advance Directive: A written document that tells what a person wants or does not want if he/she in the future can't make his/her wishes known about medical treatment.
- Artificial Nutrition and Hydration: When food and water are fed to a person through a tube.
- Autopsy: An examination done on a dead body to find the cause of death.
- Comfort Care: Care that helps to keep a person comfortable but does not make him/her better. Bathing, turning, and keeping a person's lips moist are types of comfort care.
- CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation): Treatment to try to restart a person's breathing or heartbeat. CPR may be done by pushing on the chest, by putting a tube down the throat, or by other treatment.
- Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care: An advance directive that appoints someone to make medical decisions for a person if in the future he/she can't make his or her own medical decisions.
- Life-Sustaining Treatment: Any medical treatment that is used to keep a person from dying. A breathing machine, CPR and artificial nutrition and hydration are examples of life-sustaining treatments.
- Living Will: An advance directive that tells what medical treatment a person does or does not want if he/she is not able to make his/her wishes known.
- Organ and Tissue Donation: When a person permits his/her organs (such as eyes or kidneys) and other parts of the body (such as skin) to be removed after death to be transplanted for use by another person or to be used for experimental purposes.
- Persistent Vegetative State: When a person is unconscious with no hope of regaining consciousness even with medical treatment. The body may move and eyes may be open but as far as anyone can tell, the person can't think or respond.
- Terminal Condition: An ongoing condition caused by injury or illness that has no cure and from which doctors expect the person to die even with medical treatment. Life-sustaining treatments will only prolong a person's dying if the person is suffering from a terminal condition.
